NOVELTY 'GLORIES"

Ipomoea Heavenly Blue Improved Mexican Morning Glory

Ipomoea Heavenly Blue Improved Mexican Morning Glory

This wonderful Ipomoea is in all respects superior to the Ipomoea Grandiflora Rubrocoerulea (Heavenly Blue). The deep intense blue color shades lighter toward the center. The flowers are large, profuse and continuous, coming into bloom much earlier than Heavenly Blue, and having a much longer blooming period; flowers stay open nearly all day. 15 s. 5c.

IPOMOEA CLARK'S MAMMOTH BLUE MORNING
GLORY. The very earliest flowering of the mammoth type. Flowers not quite as large, nor do they remain open as late in the day as "Heavenly Blue Improved,"
but a gorgeous, free-blooming "Glory" of celestial blue, shading to a delicious golden yellow throat. 15 seeds.

IPOMOEA ROCHESTER MORNING GLORY. A variety which has enjoyed many years of continuous and deserved popularity. The large three-toned flowers of deep intense blue shading to rosy-lavender in throat are strikingly edged white. 25 s. 5c.

IPOMOEA DOUBLE ROSE MARIE. A quick growing, early free-flowering Ipomoea that is continuously loaded with clear deep rose, double flowers. "A Must Have." 20 s. 5c.

CARDINAL CLIMBER (Ipomoea quamoclit hybrida) 30 ft. Originated by Logan Sloter through crossing of the Cypress Vine and Star Ipomoea, this glorious, quick-growing, free-flowering annual climber is breath-taking in beauty. The attractive fern-like foliage forms a decorative background for the clusters of white-throated, tubular, brilliant cardinal flowers. Needs good soil and sunny location. 25 seeds 5c.

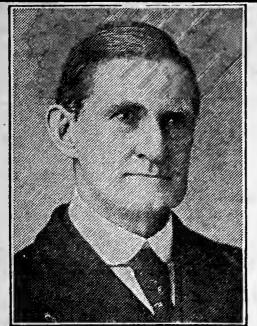

Note: When planting Ipomoea select dry sandy location and do not fertilize unless heavy foliage is desired. If sown in the open ground, wait until soil has thoroughly warmed up. If started indoors for earlier plants, use tiny individual pots and transplant without disturbing the roots.

For a full selection of choice Ipomoeas, see page 52.

MORNING GLORY—ROSE MARIE

Dear Friends: I want to tell you what fine luck I had with my Heavenly Blue and Rose Marie Morning Glories. I think nearly every seed came up. I'm quite proud, because two of my neighbors had seed from other growers, and in both cases their seed did not come up; so I brag of mine. Thank you so much. Carrie L. Clarks, Oswego Co., N. Y. June 6, 1937.

God's Love and Beauty

"My Father in Heaven, help me never to forget Thy Love to me. It comes with the light of the morning, and it remains with the light of the stars of the night. It looks up at me in the beauty of the flower. It shines upon me in the smile of a friend. All beautiful things are the gifts of Thy Love. Help me to be thankful, and to link every beautiful thing with Thee. Amen."

—John Henry Jowett.

My friends, are these your sentiments? If not, why not?

Geo. W. Park.

EAR PATRON-FRIENDS:

With the dawning year—1938—George W. Park Seed Company marks its 70th anniversary—three-score and ten years of continuous business operation which could not have been possible without your good will and patronage, and which would not have been so pleasant and satisfactory without your many kind letters of appreciation been so pleasant and satisfactory without your many kind letters of appreciation.

The celebration of so important an anniversary as the 70th naturally makes us inclined to look backward—to view those years in retrospect, the cherished friendships, the happy hours with loved ones, and, above all, the feeling of satisfaction which comes with performance of a task we love. There are none, we think, who have so joyous a work as ours and we are ever happy in the thought that Park flower seeds have been the means of bringing pleasure to others.

It is, therefore, with pride in our work that we look forward also to many more useful, happy years. With changing times, costs have risen, yet with deep satisfaction we announce that our prices to you have not advanced. As in the past, Park seeds will be sold at the uniform price of five cents a packet, 22 packets, $1.00; 50 packets, $2.00; 77 packets, $3.00; 130 packets $5.00. Many of our customers join with their neighbors in ordering, and so affect worthwhile savings.

At these uniformly low prices, we pack and deliver the seeds by mail postpaid, guaranteeing that they will reach you in good condition.

All orders are filled promptly, even during our busiest season. Orders for less than $1.00 may be sent in postage stamps; larger sums by money order, registered letter or check. We guarantee receipt of the money.

The chief pride of George W. Park Seed Company is the quality of the seeds themselves, a quality which has made this company esteemed throughout the nation. All seeds are of the new crop, or bear such a test that will satisfy and please those who sow them. The finer strains are all the growth of famous specialists—in England, France, Germany, Holland and America—therefore you get the very best seeds that can be produced throughout the world. Every packet that bears the name of Geo. W. Park contains reliable, high-class seeds, full of life and vigor. We guarantee our seeds true to name and sure to grow under favorable conditions. The full cultural direction book has been sent to many of our customers; it contains explicit directions on the planting of seeds, care of plants, etc. If you do not have a copy, ask for it. Sent free upon request.

Again we express our grateful appreciation for your good will and patronage, and hope for a continuation of your friendship. All orders will, as in the past, be given our best possible attention.

Greenwood, S. C.

Truly yours,

Geo. W. Park Seed Co.

Praises Our Seeds. I would like to send for $5.00 worth of your seeds. I think your seeds come so quickly, and I praise them to everyone. Some think because the catalogue isn't colored the seeds are inferior. I tell them they are not, that you purposely do not color your catalogue so that you can give the customer more and better-grade seeds for his money. Your seeds are as good as any, if not better.—Mrs. Jeff Miller, Dallas County, Iowa. March 30, 1937.

CHOICE GLEANINGS FROM PARK'S FLORAL MAGAZINES

GIANT SPIDER PLANT. One of the handsome, well-known annuals is Cleome Gigantea, introduced from Italy several years ago. The plant grows from two to three feet high, branching freely, each branch bearing a cluster of spider-like flowers with showy sepals of a bright crimson color, the flowers developing continuously as the branches grow. The plant is clothed with very pretty deep-lobed leaves, which form a handsome setting for the clusters of bloom. The flowers are succeeded by long, drooping seed-pods, which are also ornamental and suggest the additional attractive name of "Electric Light Plant." The seeds are sown early in Spring and the plants begin to bloom in early Summer, continuing in bloom until after frost. The numerous, feathery ground for low-growing annuals. Its easy culture and attractiveness commend it to all who want a handsome display of flowers with little outlay of labor and money.

IMPROVED PERENNIAL PEA. Lathyrus Latifolius, the Perennial Pea, has been improved in size, form and color, and is now one of the most desirable of all hardy perennials for the garden. The plants are vigorous, free and continuous-blooming, easily started from seeds, and when once established will improve in beauty for years. They are valuable either for a trellis or bed, their long, fleshy roots penetrating the earth to a great depth, not only insure a strong growth, but their perpetual blooming habit insures a brilliant, uninterrupted display of flowers the entire season. They bear drouth better than almost any other perennial, make a mass of beautiful, light green foliage, and bear huge, long-stemmed clusters of gorgeous flowers; fine for beds or trellises.

Double Hollyhock

IMPROVED DOUBLE HOLLYHOCKS are glorious garden flowers when well-grouped and well-grown. The plants will reach the height of six or seven feet and for several weeks during Summer will show great circles of full, fluffy flowers of all shades and gorgeous colors. The flowers of all shades and gorgeous colors. The handsome foliage at the base adds by contrast to the display. Seeds sown indoors in very early Spring may chance to bloom the first season, but, as a rule, it is well to sow the seeds in May, and when the plants are large enough transplant them to where they are to bloom. In this way, good strong plants will develop, which will bloom grandly the second season. Two rows of plants set alternately 15 inches apart each way, will form a screen or tall hedge of great beauty and attractiveness. Inches apart each way, will form a screen or tall hedge of great beauty and attractiveness. The plants are also admirably adapted for groups and the background for a bed of low-growing perennials. By all means, start some Hollyhocks; they will delight you. See Page 60 for selections.

Lupinus

LUPINUS POLYPHYLLUS is one of the beautiful subjects among hardy herbaceous perennials. The foliage is odd and handsome and the various-colored flowers are borne in great spikes, are of delicate texture, and are abundantly produced during early Summer. The plants are readily started from seeds, and if growth is progressive, the plants will bloom the second year and improve in beauty for several years. They like sandy, well-drained soil and partial shade. In a severe climate it is well to give some protection over winter when the plants are young, as they are liable to suffer from alternate freezing and thawing. Older plants are generally regarded as entirely hardy.

THE SENSITIVE PLANT, Mimosa Pudica is suitable either for pet gullure or garden hade. It is ble either for pot culture or garden beds. It is readily propagated from seeds, which should be sown early in Spring in a window-box or hot-bed for outdoor culture, but may be sown later if desired for window pots. It has beautiful foliage and elegant, globular flower clusters of a charming pink color, produced freely upon stems from the axils of the leaves. The plants like a rich, rather tenacious loam, well-drained, and when grown in pots will bloom well in throughout the Autumn and Winter. Water moderately and give plenty of sunlight and a rather warm situation.

The plants are as easily grown as a Geranium, and are attractive, not only because of their sensitive character, but for their delicate and graceful foliage and pleasing clusters of bloom.

Silene

SILENE PENDULA. Among hardy annuals Silene Pendula deserves a prominent place because of its dwarf, spreading form and profusion of bright, beautiful flowers. The compact varieties form lovely little flowery cushions 10 or 12 inches across, and are elegant for an edging or border. The common spreading sorts cover more space, but are more loose in growth and very graceful. All are easily grown from seeds sown either in Fall or Spring. The colors range from white to crimson, some showing flowers of a charming pink color.

VINCA ROSEA. This is a plant that should be more popular, and would be so if better known. It makes a dense bushy growth 10 or 12 inches high, displaying smooth, clean, shining green foliage against which the distinct, rich Phloxlike flowers appear as a chaste setting. It is a first-class bedding plant for a summer exposure, blooming freely and continuously, and minds neither sun nor rain. Grown in pots the plants are elegant in both foliage and flowers for the window in winter, and hardly equaled for bloom by any other plant.

Vinca Rosea is a native of the East Indies, and was introduced the American Independence was declared. Being a tropical plant, it delights in a warm, bright atmos-phere and does especially well in the South. Its easy propagation and culture, together with its thrift and beauty, should secure for it increased attention for beds and Vinca Rosea form of Cynara Cardunculus, the young flower heads of which are boiled and served as a vegetable. The base of the fleshy bracts is the edible part and is greatly relished by many persons. The plants are grown from seeds and bear the second year. They grow from 3 to 6 feet high, and are ornamental as a background plant, both the spiny, downy foliage and purple, thistle-like flowers being large and showy. In California and the South the plants are hardy, but at the North they must be protected. It thrives in rich, loose soil and a sunny situation. HEUCHERA SANGUINEA. The species of Heuchera or Alum root are natives of America, and found along the banks of mountain streams. The leaves are mostly tufted at the base of the plant, and are heart-shaped and somewhat lobed. The flower panicles push up from a foot to two feet in height and bear a profusion of small flowers in many colors from white to rich dark red and scarlet. The plants thrive in any dark red and scarlet. The plants thrive in any garden, and being hardy perennials will last for years when once started. They are very showy, and when the tall graceful sprays are cut they make a fine decoration for the room or table. The plants are easily propagated from seeds, which should be carefully sown on sifted last mould and and very sparingly government. leaf-mould and sand, and very sparingly covered. Keep the soil moist till the little plants appear, and when large enough pick them out into a shallow tray and get them well started before placing them in their garden bed. They will come into bloom the second season, and make a handsome display during summer.

JOB'S TEARS. This interesting grass is of the easiest culture. Simply plant the seeds about 6 inches apart and half an inch deep in early Spring. Plant them where the sun will have free access to them, and stir the soil about the plants, but do not disturb the roots. Thus treated, the roots will go deep in the soil and the plants will withstand the drouth and heat of Summer. When transplanted, the roots are more or less injured, and being near the surface they will soon suffer from heat and drouth and the plants will die just when they should put forth flowers and bear "tears."

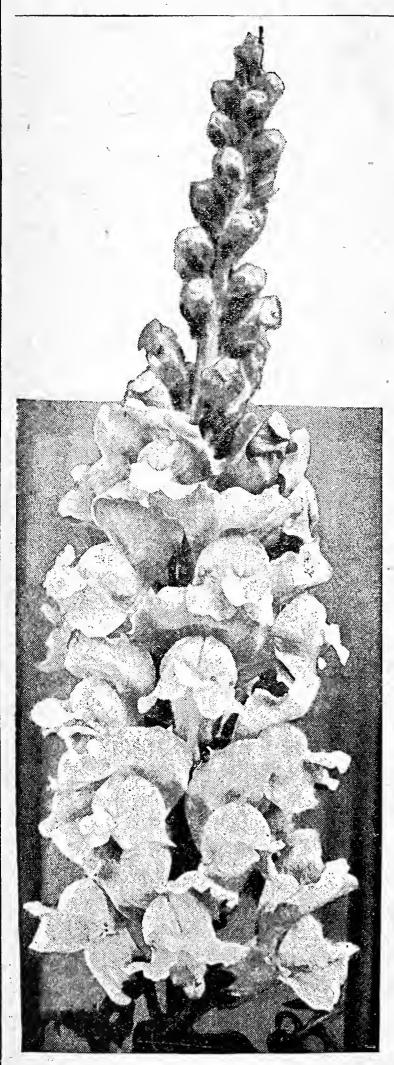

LAVENDER. There has been considerable interest in Lavender lately, and many persons inquire concerning its propagation and treatment. It is propagated from seeds, which should be soaked in warm water for a day or two before sowing, in order that they may come up promptly. Sow in a seed-box in the window, or later in the open ground. Sow in rows and cover with leaf-mold or soil that will not bake. When the plants are large enough, transplant to the garden bed, setting them 6 or 8 inches apart. The plants branch freely and will soon cover the ground. Do not disturb the flower spikes until they are well matured in Autumn, then they can be cut off and dried to place among clothes to prevent moths from becoming troublesome, as well as to impart their delicious fragrance to your linens.

Viola Tufted Pansy THE TUFTED PANSIES are a cross between pansies and violets, and have the rich colors and markings of pansies with the form and fra-grance of violets. The plants become neat little tufts of foliage and flowers, bearing the hot sun better than pansies, blooming quite as freely, and in many ways are preferable to pansies for beds. The seeds germinate readily, and seedling plants come into bloom 3 or 4 months from the time the plants appear. Plants the company that the plants appear is the form that the plants appear. in the Spring will bloom well from July through the Autumn, but the finest display of bloom is obtained by sowing the seeds in a prepared bed in July or August and setting the plants about 6 inches apart about the time frost appears. They will thus have good growth before Winter, endure severe frosts, and begin to bloom early in the Spring. If you wish to furnish slight protection, surround the beds with boards a foot broad, set edgewise.

SPLENDID LARGE-FLOWERED GERANIUMS Glorious Ever-blooming Flowers for Pots or Showy Beds.

Geranium plants are easily grown from seeds which germinate in from three to eight weeks, not all of the seeds will start at the same time. The plants are healthy and grow vigorously. If grown in pots they will usually bloom in from six to eight months, especially if not too often shifted. Repotting induces stronger plant growth, but retards the bloom. Plants that do not bloom the first season can be wintered and set out in a well-drained sunny location in the garden where they should give much satisfaction.

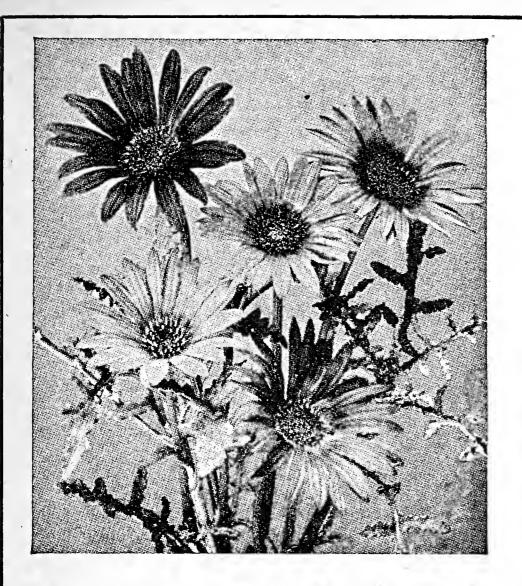

We take pleasure in offering seeds of the handsome Zonale Geraniums fresh [direct from Holland, where Geraniums grow and bloom to perfection] from our friends, the Sluis Brothers, who have selected and perfected their strain. This collection embraces a great variety of shades, colors and variegations: white, rose, scarlet, crimson, salmon and flesh. Grow your Geraniums from seeds of this Splendid, Select mixture. 15 seeds 5c. You will be pleased. PELARGONIUM LADY WASHINGTON. Fine choice mixed. 3 seeds 5c.

Dear Sirs: The Geranium seeds were entirely satisfactory. I have some very fine baby plants.

Next year I shall order a lot more of your seeds.

July 31, 1937.

Mrs. R. R. Stewart, Wayne Co., Mich.

We are pleased to say that the seeds we offer are from Pansy specialists, all of the new crop, and cannot be surpassed in quality, regardless of claim or price. We challenge comparative trial. # TWO SPLENDID AND POPULAR NOVELTIES

Centaurea Jubilee Gem

Jubilee Gem is a dwarf variety of Cornflower, making a compact plant literally covered with flowers. It has foliage distinct from all other Cornflowers, forming a tufted mass of bright green, contrasting well with the dark but vivid doubleblue flowers. The plant is about 12 inches in height. Easy to grow, it is everyone's flower and is adaptable for almost any purpose to which a plant may be put. The grower for market will welcome it as a pot plant, as also will the amateur with the very popular cold greenhouse. As an edging plant, a border plant, or for ground work in formal beds of Roses, etc., it will be found admirable; it is a fine cut flower and, above all, it may be sown outside in the Autumn for Spring flowering, or in Spring for Summer flowering, and at intervals if a continuous supply of plants is wanted.

We consider Jubilee Gem a Novelty equal in merit to the best of recent introductions. Packet 5c.

The flower form is somewhat similar to Guinea Gold only much larger; the average flowers are about five inches across while some will reach a diameter of seven and one-half inches. It comes into bloom early and will continue blooming until heavy frost, as a light frost does not affect it. The splendid mixture contains lovely shades of orange, from deep orange to creamy buttercup. A few plants of this handsome novelty will make a brilliant display in any garden. Do not miss it. # BIENNIALS AND PERENNIALS

These are valuable subjects of the flower garden, as most of them are not only showy and beautiful when in bloom, but will do service year after year for a long period, enduring cold, excessive rain and drouth, regardless of neglect and improper attention. They are easily grown from seeds, except a few which are tardy and will lie dormant in the ground for several months, or a year or two, before germinating. All are readily transplanted, and will generally thrive in the soil and exposure of an ordinary garden. When you make out your order, do not forget to select a few perennials. Once started, they will afford you as much satisfaction and pleasure as anything that you can grow. Directions for making outdoor beds and sowing seeds are sent with each package.

THE HERB GARDEN

Grandmother's garden with its delicious and fascinating odors and delicate unassuming blossoms with its valuable contributions to the needs of the ills of the family and to the delectable addition; in flavor and attractiveness of the daily menu; having been almost forgotten, is again coming into popularity. Today, no garden should be complete without a spot set aside for both the annual and perennial herbs. Only a few perennial plants of a kind are necessary. The annuals should be placed nearby, but in a different bed. Room should be left for easy access in cultivating and gathering.

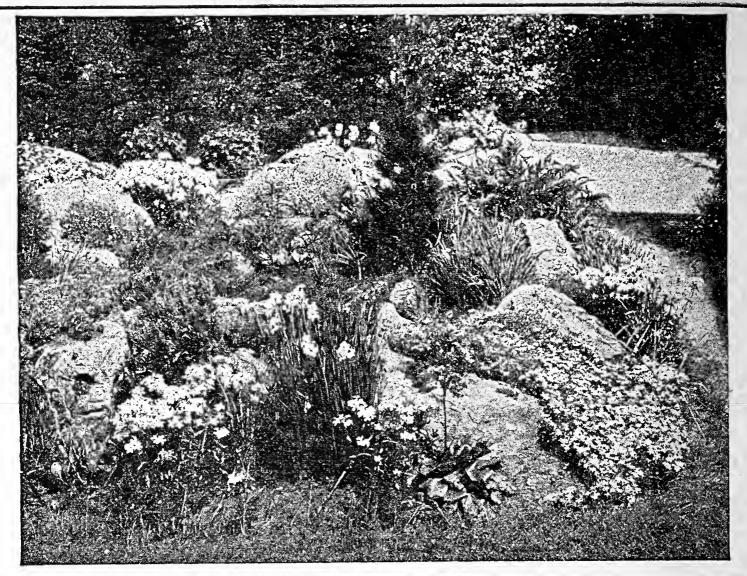

Many and varied are the uses of herbs: the tastes of the family may be educated into liking the delightful variations in soups, tomato dishes, sandwiches, meats and summer drinks; the appetite may be stimulated by the artistic touch given in the use of sprays of parsley and asparagus, the flowers of nasturtiums and borage and other ingenuous arrangements. A little labor in preparation of pool or rock garden, or both, and a choice of seeds, which may be secured for 5 cents per packet, together with love, time and patience, and one soon has a spot of loveliness, the attraction for both the family and friends

Dahlia Enemies. Enemies of the Dahlia are Thrips, Leaf-hoppers, Aphids, and Red Spider. These are kept from appearing by mulching with tobacco stems just after the plants are set. If this is neglected and such pests appear, spray plants with pyrethrum-soap, using 2 ozs. of soap to  $2\frac{1}{2}$  gals. of tobacco tea. This tea is made by pouring boiling water on chopped tobacco stems and steeping for an hour before using. This tea is a good remedy by itself, and the tobacco stems, when applied, make an excellent fertilizer as well as an insect preventive. If ants give trouble, spray bush with this solution and pour some into the ant hill.

Dear Sirs: My first order of dahlia tubers look so fine I must order more. The sixteen varieties received from you last year did marvelously well.

Value of Stems. A Dahlia may be beautiful, but if hidden down among the leaves it lacks a valuable merit. The best Dahlias are borne freely on long graceful stems that display the beauty of the flowers and make them far more attractive. We have held this point in mind and offer to you only the best in plant, stem and flower.

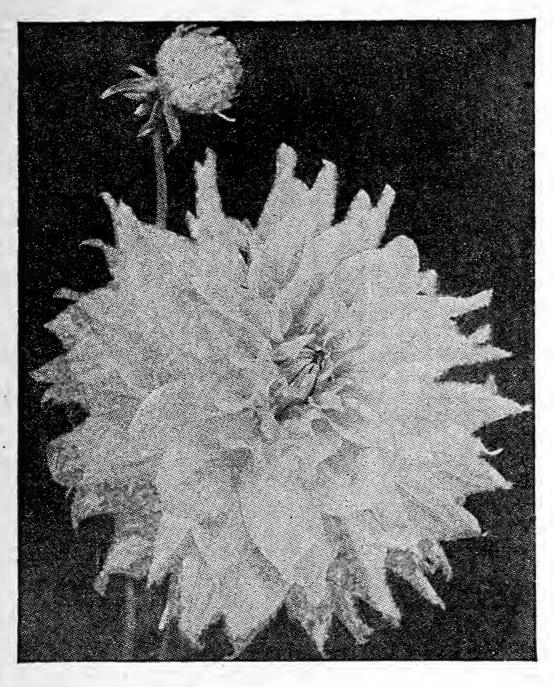

Stemborers often give trouble. Their presence is evidenced early by shortening of the internodes and later by wilting of the plants. If noticed early, cut the plant off near the ground and take the borer out with your knife. Close the wound with wax. If late in season and you do not wish to cut plant back, insert pyrethrum-soap solution,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  ozs. to 1 gallon water, with ear syringe. Slit stalk at the bottom to drain and prevent rotting.

Park's Seed Co., Greenwood, S. C. Dear Sirs: The Thomas A. Edison dahlia I secured from you in the Spring is certainly a beauty, with wonderful shape, and color of royal purple. I think it is exquisite, and it is admired by all who see it. Various flower lovers have asked me where I secured it. I cut a bloom a few days ago which measured over nine inches across, and it has fine stems, very erect. Aug. 30, 1937.

THE MAGNIFICENT LILY OF THE NILE NELUMBIUM SPECIOSUM

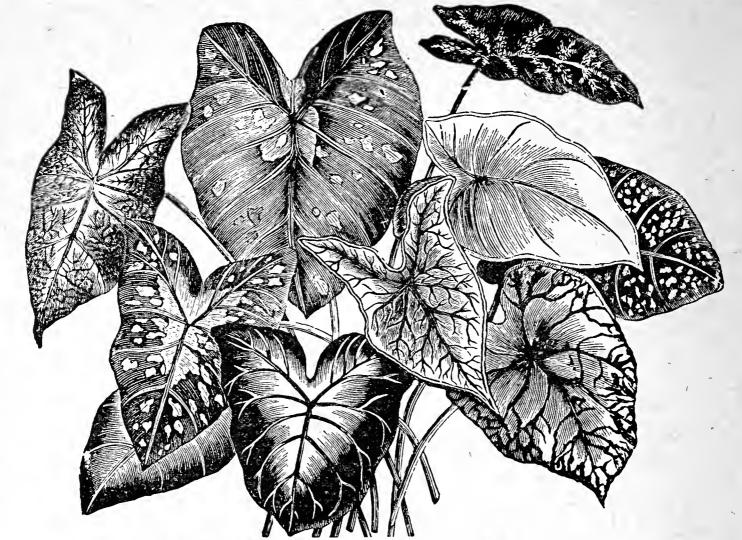

So exquisitely beautiful was our Lotus pond this season that many unsolicited write-ups and numberless visitors and friends honored us with much attention and praise. Early in the Spring the mirrowed surface of the lake became a swaying sea of rich green leaves, which lifted their upturned faces to the sun; and soon, tight buds pushed their way above the level of the leaves to burst forth in gorgeous bloom. In a short time the pond was filled with these lovely blossoms, which resemble tremendous pink and white tulips with hearts of gold. Their magnificent beauty holds an admirer spellbound, and every true flower-lover should grow one.

Where a natural pool is available, the tubers will grow and multiply rapidly. They are also well adapted to being grown in large tubs, and create quite a sensation when grown in this way.

Try this rare and beautiful Lotus from Egypt and delight your neighbors and friends with something lovely and distinctly different. We offer guaranteed, healthy tubers $1.25 each. Seeds 5c per packet.

INDEX AND GERMINATION TABLE

WHEN sowing seeds it is always best to divide the packets and sow at different times. Note the time and give good care until the plants have had time to appear. Figures here indicate pages, and letters indicate, as per key, the time needed for germination. Do not condemn seeds until you have given them at least two or three trials. Those marked z will often lie dormant for a year or more. Seeds of Trees and Shrubs should be sown in a retired bed which will not be disturbed for two or three years. Some will start in a reasonable time and can be removed. Germination, however, is variable and more or less tardy.
